

Claire was involved in music from an early age with classical piano and guitar and she developed her singing and performance skills by briefly attending Jazz School in Newpark Berkley Track and a year of professional acting training in the Dublin Gaiety school of acting. After she moved to Istanbul from Dublin in 2003 she had met with the band members of Miss Crowley Project. Together with group members Claire started writing melodies and lyrics for their album "Pin in My Side". After the release of the album Miss Crowley performed an amazing concert which was held on Zorlu Center to 2.000 audience. Through the promotion of this album Claire took stage almost all live music clubs and major Festivals in Istanbul.

In 2018, due to different goals of the group members, Claire took a break from the group and decided to go on a solo career with totally different genre of music. Claire featured in Özgür Güngör's new single "Promise You Forever" and started her new solo journey.
